

turned and thrust it into the tub and turned on the water after to finish the work he had begun or to assist the natural action of decay. I base this opinion mainly upon certain physical facts.

HEAD OF THE VICTIM WAS UNDER WATER TAPS.

"To begin with, the body when found was crowded down into the short tub with the legs protruding, just as though it had been hung there. Moreover, the head lay directly under the water taps at the straight up-and-down end of the tub. This, to my mind, effectually disproves the suggestion that Mrs. Scheib might have succumbed to illness while taking a bath. Any sane person taking a bath would lie or sit in the tub with the head at the sloping end of the tub and the feet toward the faucet, whereas, in this case, the normal position was exactly reversed.

"There have been certain important developments of the last few hours which I cannot at this time even hint at. I can tell you, however, that we are strengthening our confidence that time and we feel entirely confident that the committing Magistrate will hold Scheib without bail and that the Grand Jury will indict him for murder in the first degree."

DETECTIVES MAKE NEW SEARCH OF SCHEIB FLAT.

Yesterday and again today the Scheib flat was thoroughly gone over by men from headquarters, even the wall paper being examined. The detectives announced later that they had found evidence indicating that an effort had been made to dispose of the body by boiling it. After having been partly carried out, according to the detectives' theory, the effort was abandoned.

It is recalled that a hardware dealer in the neighborhood says that in February Scheib bought the biggest copper bottom wash boiler in the store, saying his wife intended to take in washing. The same dealer had previously sold Mrs. Scheib a smaller boiler, and one adequate to the needs of the average household. This smaller boiler, the police say, is still in the Scheib flat. The other boiler was soon afterward taken back by Scheib, who explained that his wife had gone to a hospital.

Another important witness has appeared, according to Lieut. Glosier and Policeman Kelly, of the Detective Bureau. Mrs. J. J. Donnelly, of No. 39 West Sixty-fourth street, told a story of domestic trouble that culminated about a year ago in a street assault which she said Scheib made on his frail little wife.

The police do not try to conceal the fact that they have one of the kindest cases in years to handle. Connor C. O'Grady, father of first, of the deceased, came here from Springfield, Mass., and identified the prisoner as the man who married his daughter under the name of Sherman, now says he is not satisfied the body is that of his daughter. He declares the identification is not complete enough to satisfy him and that until it is he will take no steps toward burying the body.

When Deputy Commissioner Dougherty heard that Scheib would declare he slept in the flat until March 25 he gave orders for his men to bend their efforts toward ascertaining where Scheib lived between Feb. 2, when he was last seen about the Seventy-eighth street flat, until he rented his room in Amsterdam avenue, late in March. They are satisfied he did not live in the Seventy-eighth street house, as he says, but they have been unable to discover where he did live.

Mayor Gaynor received a letter today from a man who signed himself F. J. Switzer of Chicago, in which the writer said that on Oct. 14, 1908, he indorsed a check for $40 for Scheib, who was living then in Chicago. The check was returned marked "N. G." Mr. Switzer indorsed the check, which was made out to the order of Scheib. It also bore the indorsement of one E. M. Blaine.

Mayor Gaynor sent the check and the Switzer letter to the District Attorney.

BIG RAID ON RIVER BOATS.

Inspectors Find Hudson Pleasure Craft Violate Laws.

ALBANY, June 5.—All sorts of pleasure craft ply the Hudson River between Hudson and Troy were held up last night by inspectors sent out in launches by Luther C. Warner, surveyor of the port of Albany, to see if the rules pertaining to the equipment of vessels on the navigable waters of the United States were being observed. "Violations of the law were found to be so frequent as to be the rule rather than the exception. Regulations requiring the use of lights, life preservers and fire extinguishers were found to have been ignored by those in charge of several of the pleasure boats. In some cases an excessive number of passengers were being carried. Most of the offenders pleaded ignorance of the law and all were cited to appear before Surveyor Warner today, when they were warned not to repeat the offense.

COHALAN GREETED BY FLOWERS AND FRIENDS IN COURT

New Justice Welcomed to the Bench by Mayor of His Home Town.

HIS FAMILY IS PRESENT.

Gavel Given by Irish-American
Athletic Club Inscribed
"Strong Hand Forever."

Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, recently named by Gov. Dix to fill the vacancy caused by the election of Justice James A. O'Gorman to the United States Senate, was given a remarkable tribute in the ex-parte courtroom of the Supreme Court today. It was an old-time welcome to a Judge, a manifestation of the deep regard in which the young jurist is held by friends.

Justice Cohalan, in a new black silk gown, found the big courtroom a veritable tower of roses, carnations and ferns. The bench was hidden in the foliage. An opening large enough to admit the tall, imposing figure of the Judge had been made. Through it he saw the faces of hundreds of friends with whom he has been associated in politics and athletics. All were smiling a welcome.

The courtroom was so jammed that dozens of men prominent in the legal, business and political walks of life found standing room on chairs. Outside in the corridor a great throng struggled to obtain a first glance of "Dan" Cohalan in judicial robes. They were disappointed as was another crowd which tried to get a glimpse through the judges' passageway.

Another important witness has appeared, according to Lieut. Glosier and Policeman Kelly, of the Detective Bureau. Mrs. J. J. TAFT PUNISHES ARMY OFFICER FOR RACE PREJUDICE 5-MONTH SENTENCE given to the statement he makes every presumption of accuracy and truth. It is difficult for me to read the indorsement of Col. Garrard, set forth in this letter, with patience and without complimentary words that had better not be written. I wish you would examine the record and verify the statements of Mr. Wolf, and if he has not been misinformed—and his letter sets forth the facts—direct that this young man be admitted to examination for a Lieutenant in the army.

"The statements made by Col. Garrard are not true with reference to the standing that Jews have in this country, and I resent, as commander-in-chief of the army and the navy, that any officer of either should permit himself in an official document to give evidence of such unfounded and narrow race prejudice as that contained in this indorsement.

"After you have made an examination of the record, please advise me of your action. Sincerely yours,

"W. H. TAFT."

Word of the reprimand issued from the White House today was as follows:

"The President directs the Secretary of War to inform Col. Garrard that his attitude in this matter is strongly disapproved as contrary to the ideals and principles of this country.

"Col. Garrard has been told that he had not the moral right to exert influence in his official position to bar the advancement of a courageous and efficient young man simply because that man was of Jewish race; that such procedure indicates not only prejudice that should not be found in an officer of his position and experience, but amounts to a failure to justify and fairly consider the merits and claims of the applicant as shown by his efficient service and excellent standing in the mental examinations.

"Col. Garrard has been admonished to avoid a repetition of the action taken in this case."

Yonkers Woman Will Not Press Charge Against Husband Who Fled With Paralyzed Girl.

(Special to The Evening World.)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 5.—Charles M. Roth, a prominent grocer of Yonkers, who eloped from that city with Miss Clara M. Risk, whose lower limbs are paralyzed and who has to be wheeled about in a chair, was bound over to the Superior Court in the City Court this morning.

Miss Risk, who is in court, but Mrs. Roth, who pressed the charge against them, was there and after the decree of Judge Mathewson sat with her husband. The bond was fixed at $500, and the agreement is that Roth shall go to Yonkers with his wife and continue to run the grocery store there. If he keeps away from Miss Risk the charge will be dropped in the higher court.

Roth seemed satisfied with the decree.

Ball Player Killed by Lightning.

NOHVALIK, O., June 5.—Frank Van, a ball player, was struck by lightning and killed on the ball grounds yesterday. Several other players who sought shelter under a tree were knocked down when a bolt struck the tree. The storm did much damage in this vicinity.

The vast crowd in the park expected to see her dashed to the ground, but she caught the elevator rod and depressing it made a perfect landing. Miss Hibbard escaped with a mere scratch of the hand, and expert male aviators lauded her quickness.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—Miss Nana Hibbard, the Denver girl, is still receiving congratulations here today on the presence of mind which saved her from perhaps fatal injury when the steering wheel of the aeroplane in which she ascended at the aerodrome snapped in her hands when the machine was about forty-eight feet in the air and going at a speed of thirty-four miles an hour.

"The vast crowd in the park expected to see her dashed to the ground, but she caught the elevator rod and depressing it made a perfect landing. Miss Hibbard escaped with a mere scratch of the hand, and expert male aviators lauded her quickness.

SIX CAR ROWDIES SENT TO PRISON BY ANGRY JUDGE

Magistrate Says He Is Determined to Put an End to Such Disturbances.

Six of the young rowdies who were arrested last night by the Astoria precinct reserves for making a disturbance on a trolley car coming in from Newtown were sentenced to jail today by Magistrate Smith in the Long Island City police court.

The Magistrate also announced that his course in regard to all prisoners brought before him on a similar charge would be to administer the law's limit as to punishment. He said he would stop the rowdism that was making travel on the trolley lines between Manhattan and the parks in Newtown impossible for women and children if he had to station special policemen all along the route of the car line.

These youths, their ages varying from nineteen to twenty-three, will spend thirty days in the county jail for last night's row: Richard Sullivan, No. 315 East Forty-sixth street; Patrick McDermott, No. 203 East Forty-sixth street; Richard McLaughlin, No. 343 East Thirty-sixth street; Edwin Jones, No. 315 East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street; Alexander Sweeney, No. 223 East Forty-fourth street; and Daniel Cunney, No. 332 East Thirty-fifth street were both sentenced to five days.

The arrests were made at the Woodside car barns near Winfield. The row started shortly after the car left the park in the Newtown section. The young men had seized a young girl and were tearing her clothing when the motorman ran his car back to the barns, knowing that a special police force was there. The young men denied that they had seized the girl.

The trouble on Sundays is said by Magistrate Smith to be due to the "dollar rackets" in vogue in the parks and because of the through trolley service over the Queensborough Bridge. Tickets costing a dollar are sold entitling the holder to all the beer he can drink, and this leads to the disturbances.

A case of park rowdism came before Magistrate Krotz in the Morrisania Court today. Carmine DePola, seventeen years old, of No. 906 East One Hundred and Eighty-seventh street, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct. He was one of a crowd who insulted William Simmons, No. 12 Henry street and Annie Albert and Annie Schwartz, No. 85 Madison street in Bronx Park yesterday. He was the only one who was captured. A bottle was thrown and Annie Schwartz was struck in the head, but there was no evidence that DePola threw it.

TAFT FIRM IN FIGHT ON ROOT AMENDMENT.

President Declares He Will Oppose That or Any Other to Reciprocity Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—To Senator Stone of Missouri President Taft again made it clear today that he is opposed to any amendment whatsoever to the Canadian Reciprocity agreement. Senator Stone had made a report that Administration opposition to the Root amendment was not entirely sincere and that Senator Root had been assured privately that the President would not be displeased if his amendment were adopted.

"I want to the White House," said the Senator, to find out for myself whether the President was in earnest in opposing the Root amendment. And I found out. He told me that he was against the amendment proposed by Senator Root and would be against any proposed by any other Senator, Democrat or Republican. That settles it for me. I am going back to the Senate to carry the fight along those lines. Every true friend of reciprocity will do the same thing. If we begin by talking on "harmless amendments" we will end by attaching others which will destroy the bill."

CALL KNOX AS WITNESS ON PORTRAIT PURCHASE.

House Committee Will Try to Force Statement on Picture of Ex-Secretary of State Day.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Secretary of State Knox, in spite of the Administration's refusal to make public the documents, has been served with a subpoena to appear Wednesday before the House Committee on Expenditures in the State Department and to produce all books and papers in any way affecting the $100 unaccounted for in connection with the purchase of a portrait of former Secretary of State Day.

As the information sought may again be denied the committee, Chairman Hamlin will introduce a bill to-morrow amending the statutes governing expenditures in the State Department. Wasteful expenditures, the amendment would provide, should be regarded as misdemeanors and be punished as such. Senator Root, who looked into the matter when Secretary of State, will appear before the committee to-morrow.

CLERGYMEN OF THE CITY IN FAVOR OF EVE. WORLD'S CONEY ISLAND PARK PLAN to be too obvious for discussion. It is equally clear that such another opportunity for its economical acquisition will not soon recur. What New Yorkers need is not more side shows but more open air playgrounds; so let the city purchase the Coney Island spot.

REV. C. WALLACE PETTY,
Creston Avenue Baptist Church, Manhattan.

It is a duty the city owes to the poor, he believes.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

A seaside park is as necessary as a sanatorium. It is a duty the city owes the poor. We must not let all the good places be commercialized.

REV. W. H. FELDMAN,
Our Savior Lutheran Church, Manhattan.

It is a most praiseworthy and charitable undertaking.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

The undertaking for a Greater Seaside Park at Coney Island for New York's poor is a most praiseworthy and charitable work.

REV. EZEKIEL JACOBSON,
B'nai Israel, Manhattan.

Excellent Plan, and Designed for Use of All Classes.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

Plan for Seaside Park appears excellent, provided it is designed for use of all classes and limited to neither poor nor rich. WILLIAM W. PORTER,
First Reader, Second Church of Christ Scientist, Manhattan.

Would Bring Untold Benefits to the Poor of New York.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I am heartily in accord with your movement for a Greater Seaside Park at Coney Island. It would bring untold benefits to the poor of New York.

REV. FAHIAN LIGHT,
Averly Circle, Manhattan.

"Moral as Well as Physical Benefit to Thousands."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

The plan for a greater seaside park at Coney Island would, in my judgment, prove a moral as well as a physical benefit to thousands who need the recreation it would give.

REV. F. J. BAUM,
St. Thomas Lutheran Church, Bronx.

"Relief It Would Give is a Work of Humanity."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I cordially indorse the suggestion of The Evening World for the establishment of a city park on the Dreamland site in Coney Island. The conditions for the life for the very poor of our city during the heated term of our oppressive and distressing that it is a work of humanity and a public duty to secure some relief from the sufferings during that period. The great municipalities of the world are doing very much in the line of public works, and New York should not stand in the background.

REV. DR. BERNARD DRACHMAN,
Zichron Ephraim, Manhattan.

"Would Be of Benefit to Innumerable Thousands of Poor."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I most heartily indorse The Evening World's suggestion to make Coney Island a great seaside park as one which would benefit innumerable thousands who cannot afford to seek recreation elsewhere.

REV. ERNEST A. TAPPERT,
Washington Heights Lutheran Church, Manhattan.

Is Decidedly "In Favor of the Beneficent Proposition."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I very much favor your proposition for a greater seaside park at Coney Island. You are to be commended for this beneficent proposition.

REV. DR. GUSTAVE N. HAUSMANN,
Temple Anshe Chesed, Manhattan.

"Time to Act is Now; City Should Group Opponents to It."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I sincerely hope the plan to create a greater seaside park at Coney Island for the poor will meet with success. The question is no longer what we would like to do, but what we ought to do. All objections are being offered, have been swept away by the recent fire. The time to act is now. Let us grasp our opportunity before it slips away from us.

REV. A. ARTHUR KING,
Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Bronx.

"An Unusual Opportunity to Render a Needed Social Service."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I would say that the proposed seaside park at Coney Island is greatly needed and will pay ample dividends to the poor of New York the opportunity to afford for healthful exercise, mental rest and social life. An unusual opportunity is now open to the city to secure a desirable tract of land and to render a needed social service.

REV. K. C. MACARTHUR,
Tremont Baptist Church, Bronx.

"Make New Park Neutral Zone for Poor Masses of New York."

To the Editor of The Evening World:

While the poor of this city need primarily better wages and better living quarters, it would be an excellent idea to grasp the present opportunity to furnish the masses with a seaside park. It would be still better to make this park a neutral zone where the stupid Sunday laws would not operate and where it would be possible for the poor man to
